What Other Editors Have To Say

THE COUNCIL'S DUTY

(From Ingham County News, Mason).

The city council of Mason and the councils of other cities and the official boards of townships have grave responsibilities under the liquor control act. Perhaps city and township officials realize their responsibilities although it is possible that in the hue and cry over legislative strife those responsibilities have been overlooked or minimized.

Here in Mason the city council can so act that the sale of beer will be on a high plane or the council can by its own action allow a flock of hole-in-the-wall dives to be created. The choice is up to the council. The six aldermen face a distasteful task but one that must be done and done right or the entire community will be disgraced.

The mayor and the six aldermen must throw off all personal likes and dislikes and divorce themselves from all bias and personal friendship when applications for beer licenses are being considered. The theory carelessly advanced that the approval of licenses is just a matter of form is fraught with danger and threatens disaster. Just because a man has escaped conviction for a felony or a misdemeanor is no reason why his applications should be approved by the council. The council should concern itself as to the personality of the man, his habits of life, his influence over others, his business acumen and the possible consequences of granting him a license.

Mason will not tolerate nor will the traffic warrant more than five or six beer parlors or retail beer stores. If more applications are granted the licensees will not make an honest living. Those five or six applicants who are approved should be of unquestioned character.

The council's duty is plain. It is not the formality of placing a rubber-stamp approval on all applications tendered. It is the positive duty of selecting only four or five honest and responsible licensees.

Too many beer parlors will not allow the sellers to show a profit. When a profit is not shown there will be the temptation to deal with the bootlegger of liquor and alley beer. Within reason the council should restrict the number of licensees to the point where the right to sell beer shall be valuable and the character of the establishment one of primary importance to the licensee as well as to the community.

No, the council will not have a pleasant task if the aldermen do their duty. It will be even more unpleasant if they don't. If they shirk their duty and give approval to every applicant not convicted of crime then they will face an outraged community and prohibition will soon return. Mayor Jason E. Taylor, and Lee Darling, E. J. Fletcher, Arthur W. Jewett, Leo L. Kelly, George Surateaux and William Swartout, the six aldermen, will be rightly blamed if the sale of beer in Mason is

FAILED TO OUST OTIS WEAVER

CASE BROUGHT BEFORE THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The case of the people of the State of Michigan vs. Otis Weaver was held before the Board of Supervisors at a special session Monday afternoon.

Three charges were brought against Mr. Weaver: That wood was cut by persons receiving help from the poor commission and then used by Mr. Weaver. No evidence was given to prove this charge.

It also seemed that one party asking for help had been asked if he had anything saleable. He replied that he had twenty chickens. The inference had been that Mr. Weaver wanted the chickens sold, in return for assistance from the county, but no proof of any such deal was brought out.

A pig also was involved in another charge but this story also seemed to have no foundation.

The three witnesses in the case were Oscar Kimbler of Maple Forest; Guy Roby, Ray Murphy, Frederic, and Carl Jensen, Grayling, a member of the County Poor Board.

It was moved by Dyer and supported by Dunkley, that, in view of the evidence offered, that material evidence had not been presented to the Board showing a just cause for the removal of Otis Weaver, Superintendent of the Poor, that the matter be dismissed. Yeas: Dyer, Dunkley, Love, Christenson, Caid, and Edmonds; Nays: none.

SENIOR PLAY THURSDAY MAY 18

The Senior play, unavoidably delayed, will be presented on Thursday, May 18th. All tickets and seat reservations will be honored and the Class of '33 is all ready to go through their lines.

This play "Would You Believe It", is really worth seeing. In original cast is prepared to present this clever drama. In fact everything was in readiness for its presentation two weeks ago and since that time the Seniors have practiced faithfully. Director Norine Berry believes that the young actors will be able to present a finished production on next Friday night.

The cast includes the following Seniors: Gail Welsh, Veronica Lovely, Ann Brady, Wilma Burrows, Norma Pray, Nadine McNeven, Jack LaGrow, Billy LaGrow, Milford Parker, Kenneth Gothro, and Wesley Sammons. Several of these Seniors have had previous stage experience, and all are exceptionally well adapted to their roles.

"Would You Believe It" had a successful matinee performance before an enthusiastic group of grade youngsters who followed its catchy repartee with keen interest.

STATE'S NEW BEER LAW

General Provisions.

Sale of beer or wine in drug, candy or confectionery stores is barred.

Sale to persons under 18 is barred.

Licenses are to be limited to citizens.

No beer or wine may be served over a bar, but restaurants with lunch counters may be permitted to sell wine or beer over these counters, in the discretion of the commission. In public places, customers must drink sitting down at tables.

Free lunches are barred. "Beer or wine sold for consumption on the premises shall not be removed therefrom."

This latter provision means beer cannot be purchased at a restaurant, club, or hotel dining room for home use, but only at places designated and licensed to sell beer "for consumption off the premises."

Vendors are prohibited from giving away beer or wine—i. e. the "house" can't buy a drink.

No manufacturer or wholesaler or warehouseman is permitted to have any interest, directly or indirectly, in any retail outlet.

Local option is provided for counties. On petition of 20 per cent of the electors a referendum may be brought about.

Consumption of beer on the public highways is prohibited.

Tax.

One dollar and a quarter per barrel, collected by affixing revenue stamps in warehouses. The bill provides all beer must pass through officially designated warehouses for inspection and taxation.

Licenses.

Beer manufacturers—fifty dollars per thousand barrels production annually with a minimum of $1,500. This amounts to a license fee of five cents per barrel.

Wholesalers—$100 annual license.

Railroad dining cars (retail)—$50 per car.

Watercraft licensed to carry passengers—Minimum of $50 and maximum of $500 computed on basis of $1 per person passenger capacity.

Retailers selling for home consumption (not consumption on premises)—$25 "for each and every location regardless of the fact that such location may be part of any system or chain."

Hotels—$150 for hotels of 25 rooms, and $1 per room added for larger hotels up to a maximum of $750. In the small, sparsely settled counties, 15-room hotels may be given beer licenses, but not elsewhere.

Beer gardens—$200. These gardens must not be within 300 feet of any church or school.

Restaurants—$150 in Detroit and $100 elsewhere.

Clubs—$200. These clubs must be regularly incorporated, with regular initiation and annual membership fees, shall be non-profit corporations, and must have been in existence a year before the effective date of the act.

Picnic licenses—Two dollars, obtainable through county clerks.

Warehouses—To be fixed by commission, with minimum at $25.

Commission.

The liquor control commission is to be appointed by the governor, subject to confirmation by the Senate. It is composed of 17 members, one from each congressional district. Not more than nine shall belong to the same political party. Commissioners are appointed for six years, but terms are staggered.

The commission elects an executive committee of three, for terms of one year. The commission also selects a "managing director."

Commissioners serve without pay except the three on the executive committee, who receive a salary to be determined by the commission as a whole, but not to exceed $2,000 per year. The salary of the managing director is to be fixed by the Legislature.

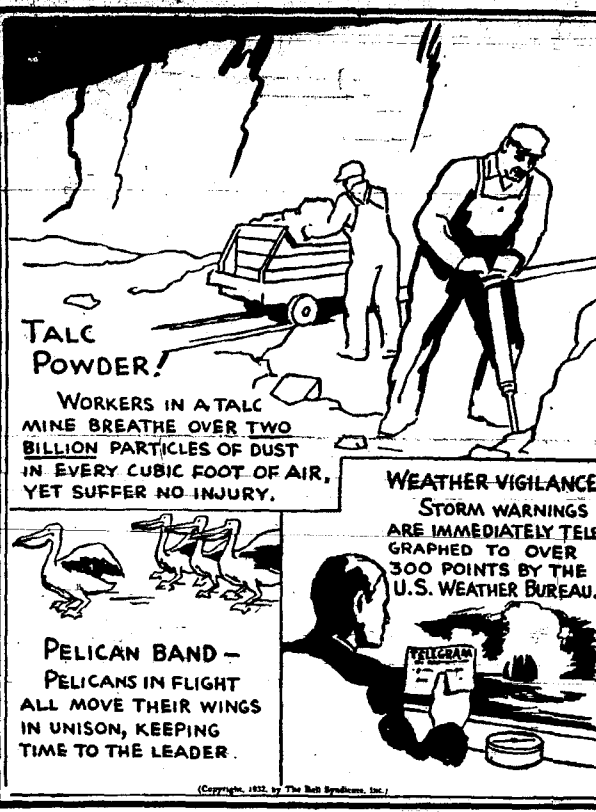

No member of the commission shall be pecuniarily interested, directly or indirectly, in the manufacturing, sale, warehousing, distribution or transportation of either beer or wine.

Rights, Powers and Duties of Commission.

To issue licenses in its discretion, with power to deny or grant a license as it sees fit to manufacturers, warehousemen, or retail vendors.

To determine fees and license (Continued on back page)

ODD THINGS AND NEW—By Lane Bode

JUNIOR PROM FRIDAY NIGHT

At 9:00 o'clock Friday evening the annual Junior Prom is to be staged at the High School gym with Ed. Barrie's grand ten-piece orchestra from Flint furnishing the music.

We Juniors are planning to make it the biggest hit of the season by decorating the gym artistically with pine boughs and silver crepe paper to represent the Senior class colors. The entertainment and refreshments are to be the grand march, confetti, snowballs, dainty cookies and—well, come and see for yourself. We know it will be "swell." We are all set to give you the biggest thrill of the year.

Couple, $1.00; Extra lady, 50c; Spectators, 25c.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE

A meeting of the Civic Improvement League was held Monday evening at the Board of Trade rooms.

It was decided to purchase fertilizer from Julius Nelson to be spread on the public park. Also grass seed was to be procured to be sown there.

There was a general discussion about some outdoor toilets being a public nuisance. A committee was appointed to wait on the health officer. If outdoor toilets were cleaned once each year and a disinfectant used at intervals, all trouble would be eliminated.

In view of the fact that all property owners have been unable to clean up their places, the league will see that trucks will call for refuse placed on the highway, as late as the coming week. After that property owners not complying with this request will be called on personally.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks, May 22.

Additional memberships: Mrs. R. Hanson, Lorane Sparkes, Mrs. Jappe Smith, Axel Peterson, Mrs. C. R. Keyport, Mrs. Andrew Beck, Mrs. Helen Ferguson.

Miss Helen Babbitt, Clare Madison, Chris Olsen, Dr. Green, Mrs. Fred Welsh, Mr. Fred Welsh, Mrs. Harold Skingley, Mrs. Chas. Fehr.

ANNUAL REPORT OF DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

District Health Unit No. 1, consisting of the counties of Crawford, Kalkaska, Missaukee, and Roscommon, concluded the third year of its program under the direction of Dr. Stanley A. Stealy.

During the year 1932 health examinations were given, and 9596 visits to the homes were made.

630 children were protected against diphtheria and smallpox, and 470 defects were corrected.

4673 major dental operations were performed for school children. There were 3196 fillings, 845 extractions, and 632 prophylactic treatments.

1656 cases were given regular supervision, and 723 cases were placed under the care of physician, dentist or hospital.

The sanitary officer made 896 sanitary inspections.

THREE WEDDINGS SOLEMNIZED

Dan Cupid has been busy among Grayling young people as three weddings were solemnized during the latter part of last week.

Niederer-Clark. Miss Kathryn Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Clark, and Mr. Emil Niederer surprised their friends Saturday when they were married at the Congregational church at Oxford, Mich., the Rev. H. B. Johnson officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Prawl, the latter a cousin of the bride, were in attendance. Both Mr. and Mrs. Niederer are well and favorably known, having spent most of their lives in this community. Mr. Niederer is in the ice and coal business. Congratulations and happiness.

Lozon-Jordan

On Thursday evening Miss Evelyn, youngest daughter of Henry Jordan and Chester Lozon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lozon of Maple Forest were united in marriage by Rev. J. L. Culligan at St. Mary's church. They were attended by Miss Ona Lozon, sister of the groom and Mr. Ted Callahan, and the immediate members of the family witnessed the ceremony. The bride was attractive in a gown of tan silk crepe and she wore a small brown straw hat. Following the ceremony a three course wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride, the table being centered with a crystal basket of flowers, guarded by crystal holders holding pea green candles.

The bride has lived in Grayling most of her life and is a graduate of Grayling High School of the class of '32. For the present the young couple are residing at the home of the bride, and have the best wishes of many friends.

Brown-Broadbent

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Broadbent was the scene of a very pretty wedding Saturday night when the latter's sister Miss Dorothy Broadbent became the bride of Mr. Archie Brown. The marriage vows were spoken under a canopy of cedar boughs and blue and white streamers, Rev. H. J. Salmon of Michelson Memorial church officiating at the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of Alice blue silk crepe and her attendants, her niece Miss Mabel Pankow and Miss June Schofield, also wore blue gowns. The groom was attended by Arthur Pankow and Calvin McEvers.

At midnight a delicious lunch was served to about 50 relatives and friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Broadbent and the groom the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, and their many friends extend congratulations and best wishes.

Historic American Church

The first Roman Catholic church in America was built at Port Royal in 1608, and on St. John's day, June 24, 1610, the first Christian baptism took place when the old Chief Memberton and his family received this sacrament from the hands of Father Fleche, a Jesuit priest. Pictures of Father Fleche and Memberton, and a handsome brass tablet commemorating "The Birth of Christianity in Canada," may be seen in St. Thomas' church today.

SUP'VS RESCIND CONSV. RESOLUTION

A group of business men waited on the Board of Supervisors at their special session Monday afternoon.

Mr. T. P. Peterson was one of the representatives of the group, spoke of the injustice done to the county through the resolution passed by the Board at their previous session denying the Conservation Department the right to incarcerate offenders of the conservation laws in the county jail. He asked the Board to rescind the motion at a special session to be called at the adjournment of the meeting then convening.

Mr. Fred Welsh also spoke depicting the fact that the resolution had been passed. He told of the sentiment of outside sportsmen, whom he had met, and hoped the Board would see fit to rescind the motion.

The Board assured the committee of men representing Grayling that they had already decided that the resolution would be rescinded at a special session. This was done that same day.

15 MILL LAW NOT FOR VILLAGES

May 5, 1933
Mr. E. L. Sparkes, Village Clerk, Grayling, Michigan.

Dear Sir:

This will acknowledge your letter of May 2, relative to the application of the so-called 15 Mill Limitations to your village in raising money for village purposes.

You are advised that taxes for village purposes should be assessed in the same manner as they were assessed prior to the amendment, and that such amendment has no effect on the power of the village to levy taxes for village purposes in accordance with the provisions of the village charter.

Yours very truly,
PATRICK H. O'BRIEN,
Attorney General.

Deputy Attorney General.

ENJOY WEEK END FISHING PARTIES

Camp Ginger-Quill, the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Smith Jr., of Bay City had a gay party of fishermen on the opening week of the season with the following guests: Besides Mr. Smith there were Dave Fellows, Harlow H. Curtis, Spencer Bishop, Carl Bonbright, Dr. Max Burnell, Ed. Cummings, all of Flint; Hubert S. Smith, F. D. Johnson, Maynard L. Smith of Bay City; Randolph G. Adams, Ann Arbor; Hugh Seaver, Bloomfield Hills; Howard F. Smith, Detroit.

Each year at the opening party a trophy is awarded to the one catching the largest fish and Mr. Seaver was the lucky winner when he landed a 13 1/4 inch brook trout.

Last week end guests at Camp Ginger-Quill included besides Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bonbright of Flint and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Seaver of Bloomfield Hills.

GRAYLING—BAKERY MAKES GOOD WHOLESOME BREAD

The modern bakery is as different from the ill-ventilated, dark, smelly old-fashioned bakery as day is from night. Today, the most modern bakery is light, airy, spic and span as the most particular housewife's kitchen. Great ovens, huge mixing machines measuring devices that makes every loaf exactly the same, all go to make up the modern bakery such as Grayling bread is baked in.

Years ago, perhaps, the large city bakeries were equipped with all these modern ways of making perfect bread before the smaller town bakeries were thus equipped. Maybe in those days the city baked bread was a little lighter, more uniform in texture, color and weight. But that difference is entirely gone. Bread baked in the Grayling bakery is just as wholesome, just as good, baked as any bread in the world. It is far, far better than much of the bread placed on the market.

If you will spend your nickel or dime for Grayling baked bread and baked goods you will help an important Grayling industry. Less than one-half the bread sold in Grayling is baked in the Grayling bakery. If every loaf of bread sold in Grayling was Grayling baked many more people would have employment here. Think it over. Buy Grayling bread.

GOLF COURSE OPEN SUNDAY

Everything is all set for the opening of the course Sunday with the tees, fairways and greens in better shape than ever before.

For the past week or so much has been said about the lowering of the annual dues. But after looking over our expenses for the year and trying to build up the course so it will be more attractive and inviting to the public it was decided that we cannot do it for less than $25.00 per member this year. It is false economy to lower expense by cutting out a lot of work that really and truly does make the course better to play on.

At the regular annual stockholders meeting held Tuesday night, the following regulations were made for 1933 dues and green fees:

Dues for all members to be $25.00 and $15.00 of which is to be used for maintenance and upkeep of course, and $10.00 to be applied on a debt.

Summer memberships to be reduced to $25.00, for husband, wife and members of family under eighteen years of age or any two designated unmarried members of a family; for example: two brothers or two sisters or a brother and a sister. Green fees are to be reduced to 25c for 9 holes or 50c for all day, except Sundays and holidays, which are to be 50c for 9 holes or 75c for all day.

Directors of the club are:

F. R. Welsh—President.
O. W. Hanson—Vice President.
Margrethe Hemmingsen—Secretary.
R. O. Milnes—Treasurer.
Dr. C. R. Keyport.
C. J. McNamara.
H. J. Olson.
T. P. Peterson.
H. W. Wolff.
A. J. Joseph.

Green Committee—E. J. Olson, F. R. Welsh, O. W. Hanson, and R. O. Milnes.

Tournament Committee—Geo. N. Olson, Dr. C. G. Clippert and Menno Corwin.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for the beautiful expressions of sympathy in our recent bereavement. Also our thanks to the choir of Michelson Memorial church, and to Rev. Salmon.

USE PRISONS TO AID FARMERSLEGISLATURE MAY BREAK
FARM TOOL PRICES BY MAKING TOOLS

(By Elton R. Eaton)

Lansing, Mich.—When Governor Fred Warner put the binder twine plant in Jackson prison and began supplying the farmers of Michigan with a badly needed article that they had been paying exorbitant prices for, he started a prison industry that lasted for a quarter of a century. He broke up the alleged binder twine trust and he claimed that he took from the neck of the farmers a twine that was being used to strangle them.

It is an interesting and strange coincidence that just at the time the binder twine plant is being dismantled at Jackson prison because of congressional legislation that will not permit prison made products to be shipped outside the state, that Michigan should be considering the question of manufacturing farm implements for use by Michigan farmers.

The very same reason that caused Governor Fred M. Warner to start up a binder twine plant in Jackson is now being given by Don Sias of Midland for the making of farm implements by the state.

Representative Sias, father of a legislative resolution that provides for a sweeping investigation into the high prices of farm machinery, and who is chairman of the investigation committee, is just now securing data from Minnesota where he has discovered that in the prison at Stillwell, Minnesota, there is a plant used entirely for the building of farm machinery. He has not yet been advised as to the extensiveness of the Stillwell plant or just how many kinds of farm implements are made there, but he hopes to have this information within a few days.

He will in the next few days have before his committee many implement dealers in Michigan who are expected to testify as to the prices of farm machinery and find out if he can why it is that farm machinery has not come down in price as has everything else. Farmers are now getting considerably less than one half the prices for their products that they were paid a few years back, but they are forced to pay just as much as ever for the tools they have to buy for their business. He does not charge that there is a price fixing organization maintained by makers of farm machinery, but he does want to know why the prices have not dropped and why they remain uniform year after year no matter what economic conditions may be. That he proposes to find out and remedy if possible.

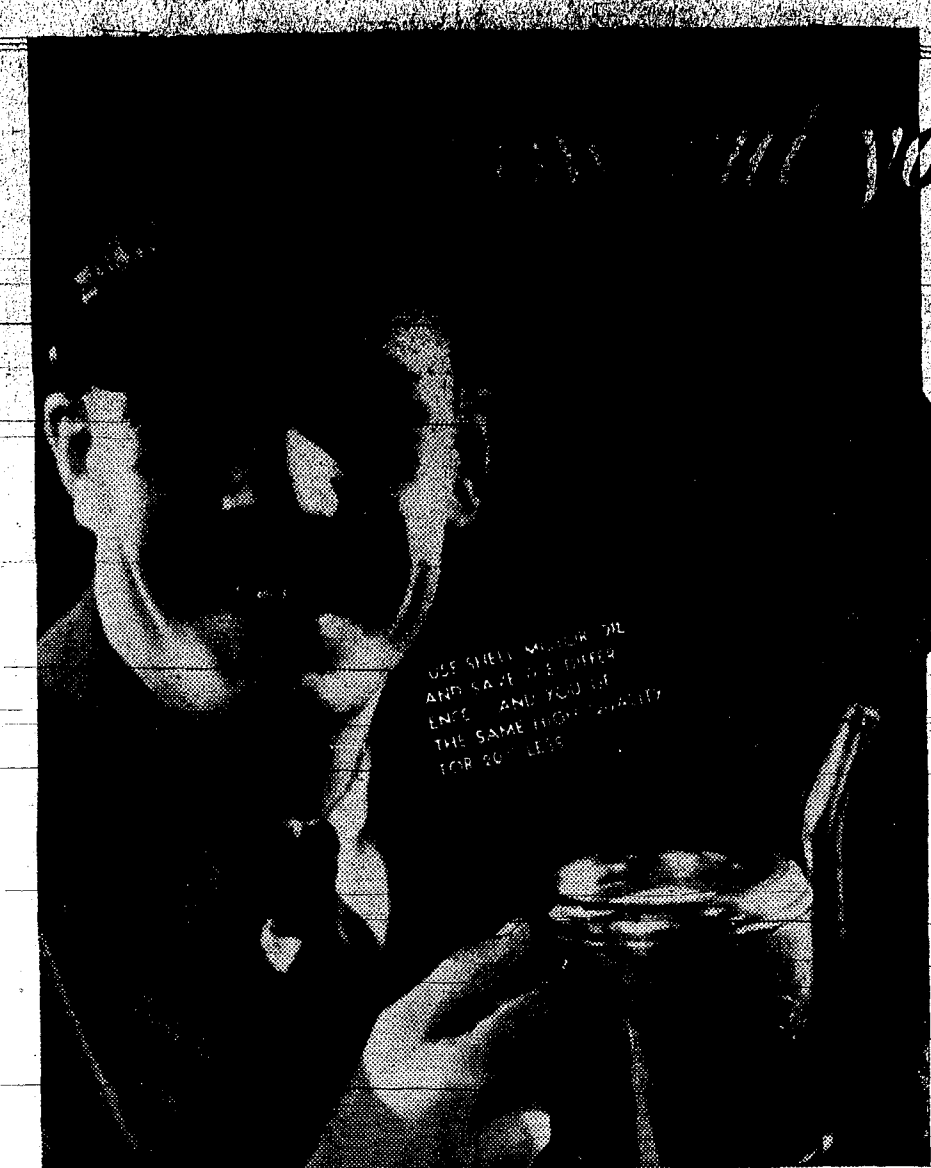

If Representative Sias can force a reduction of prices on farm implements, and he declares he is going to bring the prices down or attempt to get the state to manufacture farm tools, he will be doing more for the farmers of Michigan than has been done in many years.

When representative Vernon J. Brown gave out to the newspapers last fall a brief review of the numerous economies he would recommend to the forthcoming legislature with Representative Gus Hartman, he estimated that the enactment of bills they would present to the legislature would save the taxpayers of Michigan something like $10,000,000. Slowly but surely the legislature has been grinding out these economy measures and last week a total of something like $9,500,000 had been slashed from the expenses of the state by the enactment of the Brown-Hartman bills.

Representative Brown is sitting up nights trying to figure out where there is another half million dollars that can be chopped off in order to bring his estimate just to the figure he said it would be last fall. Readers should keep the fact in mind that the only economy bills presented to the legislature are those that Mr. Brown and Mr. Hartman introduced.

Something was said in one of these legislative letters a week or so ago about the possibility of the legislature adjourning the last of May. There isn't a possibility of the law-makers quitting and going home this month. So far there has been no revenue raising measures considered outside committee. The sales tax bill when it comes up for consideration in the house will be an entirely different one than the one sent to the committee. It is said practically every paragraph of the bill has been or is being rewritten by the committee, so no one will have any idea of what it will be like when the house gets through changing the amendments that the committee is now making. The state is without funds. Payrolls are being met in part by money diverted from the sources for which they are supposed to be sent. Unless immediate and drastic action of some kind is taken, say legislative observers, the state will be faced with the same problem that confronts Detroit and there will be a complete collapse of state functions. This is no idle prediction.

Legislative sentiment is not strong for a senate bill that strikes at the conservation commission of the state. The legislature a few years ago in an effort to do away with sudden and sweeping political changes in the department, passed a law providing for the appointment of the commission in such a way that there can never be an entirely new commission appointed at one time. This did away with politics in the handling of conservation matters in Michigan. When the department was created during the Groesbeck administration it was the purpose of the former governor to so organize the department that its activities would be entirely free of politics. Later this idea was strengthened by the enactment of the staggered system of appointing members of the commission. It is this feature of the state law that the senate bill strikes at. Sportsmen of

BURKE OIL CO. - - Grayling, Mich.

Michigan have flooded the legislature with letters of opposition to the bill.

It has become quite evident during the past few days that one of the reasons for differences existing between the executive and legislative branches of the state government is due entirely to the question of patronage. Democratic members of both the house and senate feel that the governor could appoint many more Democrats than he has and on top of this feeling they do not like a lot of Democrats he has appointed. There was bitter opposition on the part of some Democrats to some of the governor's labor commission appointments. One withdrew his name after it had been presented to the senate. Claude Carney of Kalamazoo was confirmed by the senate with just one vote to spare. Then came a tie-up on some of the liquor commission appointments, but finally this opposition was withdrawn. It has all reacted to the detriment of the state as members of the house and senate feel in some cases that they have a just right to express their feelings against some of the wishes of the executive office.

The Michigan legislature has again gone on record as being opposed to ratification of a federal constitutional amendment prohibiting child labor. Passed by ten other states, the resolution when it came up in the house the other day was bitterly assailed by both Democrats and Republicans.

If delinquent taxes are paid by July 1 of the present year, there will be no penalties, interests or additional sums of any kind to pay, the Governor having signed the bill which makes this provision for the delinquent taxpayer. The law does not apply to city taxes.

A bill has been introduced in the state legislature to abolish the tax commission, a branch of the state government held by many to be responsible for a large percent of the taxpayer's troubles. Advocates of the bill insist that the state can get along without the commission much better than it can with it. Not only is the establishment of the commission urged because of its ineptness, but because of the economy that would result to the state.

Members of the state legislature during the past few days have been studying over the payroll of the University of Michigan. Copies of it have been provided each member. One member stated that he doubted if there was any manufacturing company or public utility organization in Michigan that had as many $10,000 salaried men as the University. The University has many on its payroll who draw considerably more than $10,000 per year.

Reminiscences

During these long days of depression, bank holidays, and discourses on technocracy let us make a visit to one of our most beloved local interests and see what is taking place there these quiet winter days.

As we enter the doors of Mercy Hospital we are confronted with ladders, paint and varnish cans with brushes, and a certain bustle that says, "House cleaning time is here." Walls have been washed and painted, floors sanded and varnished, furniture painted, and the entire place is taking on the hue of spring sunshine.

In the office we notice they are busy with stacks of paper of some kind and upon inquiring we are told that the records from April 3, 1911 are being sorted and filed away for the last time. Here are some of the interesting subjects which are being discovered:

The first patient, Mr. Edward McFall, Manistee, Mich., who was injured on the M. & N. E. R. R., was brought to the Hospital which had but one room finished. Our faithful friend of fond memory, Doctor Insley and Doctor Keypert bustled about for the bed and sufficient furniture for a sick room; secured Miss Alta Reagan as first nurse, and began hospital work in Grayling—while workmen were busy plastering and finishing the woodwork in the remainder of the building.

Then came Opening Day! What a day of rejoicing for the people of Grayling! Mrs. Geo. Alexander, first president of the Hospital League and her helpers had charge of the reception.

The fourth patient, Miss Catherine Bates, was the first operative case. She was admitted on April 24 and remained 21 days.

Another point of interest in the accounts was the item "Rig"—Can you remember the Rig which went for patients? Compare this with our new $1500.00 Ambulance.

On March 9 when a fire broke out, we again were reminded of what this hospital meant to this community. We then formed pictures of days when we had no hospital, and realized our great love and pride in the completeness and the thorough work done at Grayling Mercy Hospital.

During these times of depression, when it has become necessary to curtail every expense possible, do we ever ask ourselves just how our hospital manages to continue its work, when other institutions are run on a "Pay as you enter" plan? So far no one has been turned away from her doors because of money—but are those who owe remembering the do what they can toward their accounts so this work may continue uninterrupted?

LOCAL CHAPTER WILL ENTERTAIN WOLVERINE ASSN.

Grayling Chapter O. E. S. No. 83 are busy completing their plans to entertain the Wolverine Association of the Eastern Star at its eighteenth annual district meeting which will be held in Grayling next Monday.

The program will begin with the afternoon session at 2:00 o'clock, which will be followed by the regular business session. At 6:00 o'clock the guests will be entertained at a dinner at Michelson Memorial church, put on by the M. E. Aid society.

In the evening at 8:00 o'clock the program will be continued. On each program both afternoon and evening, many local people and visiting members will take part. Mrs. Selma A. Brown, Worthy Grand Matron of Birmingham who will be guest of honor will give a school of instruction and address on the evening program.

Other Grand officers expected include Miss Genevieve Nauman, Grand secretary of West Branch, also Miss Hazel V. Kramer, secretary of the District association of Gaylord will be on the program.

About 200 visitors are expected and the headquarters will be at the I. O. O. F. temple. This is the second time that the local chapter has entertained the Wolverine association and no doubt the meeting will be a grand success.

DID YOU SEE A SMELT RUN?

Did you see a smelt run this spring? If you did the State Department of Conservation wants to find out in what stream the run occurred and the approximate dates of the run.

While smelt were first noticed in Benzie, Charlevoix and other nearby counties the miniature fish has gradually spread around to Lake Huron and runs have been observed along the southern rim of the upper peninsula. So far no runs have been reported in streams running into Lake Superior.

The Conservation Department is trying to keep records of all streams in which smelt occur. Under new regulations the Director of Conservation may open any streams to dip-netting for smelt when these fish occur. A record of all smelt streams would make it possible to issue a complete list next spring to permit dip-netting, it is pointed out.

DEPT. OF STATE
STATE NEWS BULLETIN

A bill containing the recommendations of Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald that automobile weight tax fees be reduced to three, six and nine dollars, is being drawn up for presentation to the legislature in the near future.

Since the recommendation was made public 10 days ago, statewide approval of the idea has been shown by the large volume of letters reaching the Department of State, expressing the writers' endorsements of the plan. That there already exists in the legislature a strong sentiment for reduction of weight tax fees is known as several other measures calling for reductions in license fees have been introduced.

The bill now being prepared sets the tax for light automobiles at $3; for medium-weight cars at $6; and for heavy cars at $9. It is estimated that the reduction in weight tax revenues about 66 per cent under present levels, but no accurate estimate is possible. By lowering the fees, a large number of automobiles, not now being used, would be returned to the roads.

At the time of making the recommendation, Mr. Fitzgerald was just as emphatic in announcing his disapproval of any increase in the gasoline tax. Real tax reduction does not mean the shifting of the burden from the right to the left hand, he said.

Practically every automobile stolen in Michigan in recent years, has been recovered. In 1930 and 1931 more automobiles were recovered each year than were stolen. In 1932 a total of 2,193 cars were stolen while 2,084 were recovered. Michigan ranks second among the 48 states in the recovery of stolen cars.

The Auto-Theft Recovery Division of the Department of State is the center of this activity in the state. As soon as a car is reported stolen, the department sends a complete description to all law enforcement officers in the state and through the use of "flasher files," for the car until the department is notified officially that the car has been returned to its rightful owner. The number of cars stolen annually in Michigan is decreasing steadily. In 1928, a total of 5,887 were stolen while last year but 2,193 were stolen.

Even the boys and girls of Michigan will have to pay taxes if a bill introduced during the past few days becomes a law. The house has a measure in one of the committees which provides a tax on ice cream sodas, pop and all other soft drinks.

ONE WELL PAYS MICHIGAN $350 A DAY

An 80 acre lease of state-owned land in Midland county may bring the state of Michigan an income of more than $100,000 within the next year through royalties received from an oil lease, according to the Department of Conservation.

One of the largest producing wells ever reported in Michigan has been brought in on state-owned property.

The well, about a mile north of the new Otway well in the Porter Township field has a production capacity indicated at more than 4,000 barrels a day. Under the lease agreement drawn by the Company with the Department of Conservation, the state receives royalty from the oil produced which under the present rates will mean an income to the state of about $350 a day.

PROCEEDINGS

SPECIAL MEETING, MAY 5TH, 1933

Special meeting of the Board of Supervisors for the County of Crawford, commenced and held at the Court House in the Village of Grayling, on Monday, the eighth day of May, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three.

Roll called. Present: Frank E. Love, Lyle Dunkley, P. W. Christenson, Edgar Caid, Rufus Edmonds and Sydney A. Dyer. Absent: none.

The Board was called to order by the Chairman, Rufus Edmonds. The call for Special Session read as follows:

Grayling, Michigan, April 28th, 1933

To the Board of Supervisors:

Notice is herewith given, that pursuant to a request filed in my office, signed by one-third of the members of the Board of Supervisors, a Special Session of the entire Board of Supervisors is called to be held at the Court House in the Village of Grayling, on Monday, the eighth day of May, A. D. 1933, at nine o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Said Special Session is called for the following reasons:

1st. To take up the matter of raising the budget for the year 1934.

2nd. To take up the matter for a hearing of Otis Weaver, Poor Superintendent.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto affixed my signature and the Seal of the Circuit Court, in the Village of Grayling, this twenty-eighth day of April, A. D. 1933.

Axel M. Peterson, County Clerk.

Moved by Love, and supported by Dunkley, that the matter of the County Budget for the year 1934 be placed into the hands of the Committee on Ways and Means. All members voting yea. The motion carried.

The Committee on Ways and Means beg to report... That they have had the matter of the budget for the year 1934, under consideration and have placed the budget at $28,944.54. Respectfully submitted: S. A. Dyer, Chairman, P. W. Christenson, and Frank E. Love.

Moved by Dunkley and supported by Caid, that we accept the report of the Committee on Ways and Means. Yeas: Dunkley, Caid, Love, Christenson, Edmonds and Dyer. Nays: none. The motion carried.

Afternoon Session. The case of the People of the State of Michigan vs. Otis Weaver was held at this time.

Moved by Dyer and supported by Dunkley, that in view of the fact that material evidence has not been presented to this Board showing a just cause for the removal of Otis Weaver, Superintendent of the Poor, that the matter be dismissed. Yeas: Dyer, Dunkley, Love, Christenson, Caid and Edmonds. Nays: none. The motion carried.

Moved by Dyer and supported by Christenson, that we adjourn this Special Meeting and reconvene in Special Session for the purpose of taking up any business that may come before the Board at this time, and that we hereby waive notice of this Special Session. All members voting yea. The motion carried.

Moved by Dunkley and supported by Caid, that we rescind motion relative to the denying the Conservation Department the right to incarcerate offenders of the Conservation laws in the County jail, due to the fact that said resolution conflicts with the State laws. Vote taken. All members voting yea. The motion carried.

Moved by Caid and supported by Dunkley, that the Clerk be authorized to purchase a new Plan to Rehabilitate Industry Under Government Control—President Asks Congress to Pass Railway Co-ordinator Measure—Farmers Vote to Strike.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

OUR anti-trust laws, that have been held responsible for many of industry's woes in recent times, would be relaxed and ruinous competition and reckless price slashing eliminated under the provisions of a new bill that was laid before President Roosevelt for his approval. This measure, entitled the "National Recovery Act," was drawn up by a committee of congressional and industrial leaders headed by Senator Wagner of New York. Some members of the so-called "brain trust" also had a part in its formulation.

The bill provides for full government control of industries through a federal board that would closely resemble the war industries board of 1918. As summarized by one Washington correspondent, it proposes to set aside the anti-trust laws, the federal trade commission act, and the Clayton act; empowers the national board to designate any industry as one affected with a public interest; permits price fixing directly and wage regulation indirectly under government supervision, and provides for the self-organization of industry through trade associations.

The major features of this bill have been approved by the National Association of Manufacturers and by President H. I. Harriman and other officers of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. It was said that if Mr. Roosevelt liked it, the measure might be offered to congress as a substitute for Secretary of Labor Perkins' bill establishing the 30-hour week and bureaucratic control over production and wage scales of industry. Or it might be combined with the Perkins bill, which was meeting with such decided opposition in the house of representatives that the administration leaders seemed ready to abandon hope of its passage during this session.

This industry bill sets up a board consisting of seven members headed by the secretaries of commerce and labor. The others are to be spokesmen for commerce, finance, labor, agriculture, and the public. The plan sanctions the formation of industrial and trade associations which shall work with the national board to correlate production with demand, establish prices of commodities at fair levels, and stabilize markets. Each trade association will have on its governing board a representative of the supreme body of seven.

Loans but not subsidies are provided for private industry; higher price levels would be sanctioned; and cut-throat competition and unregulated price cutting would be eliminated. Instead of fixing wages and hours of labor, the national board will permit them to be provided by collective action of each industry. Since the veto power on any wage and hour arrangement will rest with the board, it is not proposed that any industry will be permitted to get out of line in these respects.

Secretary Perkins was understood to be opposed to this proposed measure. WHILE the National Recovery act was still under consideration in the White House, the President in a brief message to congress asked immediate passage of a bill which he hopes will rescue the railroads from their desperate situation. It provides for a federal dictatorship under a "co-ordinator of transportation" whose function it would be to eliminate duplication of services and wasteful methods of operation and to bring about financial reorganizations. This authority is asked for one year, though provision is made for extension of the period by the President.

The President also recommended placing railway holding companies under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission, repeal of the recapture clause of the transportation act whereby half of excess earnings go to the government, liberalizing the basis of rate making and modifying valuation requirements. During the period of emergency control the railroads would be immune from prosecution for violation of the anti-trust laws.

Plans were laid to hurry the measure through congress, and there seems to be little opposition among either Republicans or Democrats. MR. ROOSEVELT, addressing the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at its annual dinner, sought to dissipate the fears of business men that he was trying to bring about a bureaucratic control of industry, intimating that this would not come about if industry granted three requests which he set forth. These were that wages should go no lower and should rise just as fast as industry improves; that business should help the government to end cut-throat competition and unfair practices, and that leaders should work for national recovery, not for the selfish gain of a single industry or trade.

THOUGH the house accepted the inflation rider to the farm bill, it did not agree to the senate's amendment authorizing the secretary of agriculture to set arbitrary prices for basic agricultural commodities and penalize sales below such prices, and final enactment of the measure was thus delayed. This difference of opinion also led the farmers' convention in Des Moines to order a farm holiday beginning May 13, the producers being instructed to keep their products off the market during the period of the strike in order to starve the nation into complying with their demands. Eggs, vegetables and milk are included with the other farm products.

This action was taken by some 1,500 delegates from twenty-one states. Observers said they represented only about 1 per cent of the farmer strength in their respective states and predicted the strike would be ineffective. The convention adopted resolutions of sympathy with the farmers of two counties in Iowa which are under martial law because of the disgraceful mobbing of Judge C. C. Bradley at Le Mars. Many of the mob leaders were under arrest and the state troops were used to gather evidence, although the cases were to be tried in civil court.

OPENING date for Chicago's Century of Progress exposition was advanced to May 27 to accommodate President Roosevelt, who promised to be on hand to take principal part in the ceremonies. On the same day he will officiate at the formal opening of the Great-Lakes-to-the-Gulf waterway, the ceremony to be held at the mouth of the Chicago river.

WHILE continuing his economic conversations with representatives of other nations, the President found time to consider the selection of American delegates to the world conference that opens June 12 in London. He consulted with Assistant Secretary of State Raymond Moley, who will be one of the delegates, and also was visited by Henry Morgenthau, Sr., former ambassador to Turkey, and James M. Cox of Ohio, Democratic Presidential candidate in 1920. Both those gentlemen, it was understood, were to go to London; and Mr. Morgenthau also was chosen to represent the United States at the international wheat conference in Geneva.

To the organization committee for the London conference Norman H. Davis, special American envoy, proposed that the nations should enter into an agreement for a world-wide tariff truce pending the outcome of the parity. Putting this on the agenda was left up to Prime Minister MacDonald, who returned home to confront a difficult situation. While he was talking international trade agreements with Mr. Roosevelt, the British board of trade under President Walter Runciman was promoting bilateral trade understandings with many governments.

MR. ROOSEVELT had a round of conversations with Latin-American diplomats, starting with Thomas Le Breton of Argentina who was accompanied to the White House by Ambassador Espil. Doctor Le Breton and his corps of experts also met with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and other government officials to discuss monetary and trade problems and especially methods of controlling world surpluses of wheat.

Guido Jung, Italy's finance minister, arrived in Washington once began talks with President Roosevelt and his advisers concerning the purely economic and monetary phases of the current questions; and Augusto Rosso, Italian ambassador, handled for his government the discussion of disarmament and political matters.

ONE more head of a Latin-American government has fallen at the hand of an assassin. Luis M. Sanchez Cerro, President of Peru, was shot to death by Abelardo de Mendoza, a member of the Aprista, opposition party, just after review.

MOVING along somewhat similar lines to those of the Roosevelt administration, Chancellor Adolf Hitler was going a swifter pace than any of his fellow dictators ever held. Immediately after a May day announcement that he would draft the youth of Germany into a labor army, regardless of wealth and position, he proceeded to destroy the free trade unions of the nation. The Nazi storm troops were sent into every city and town to seize the union premises and the labor banks. All the important union leaders were put under arrest.

"This clears the path for the new National Socialist state in which labor will form a part of society, divided and grouped according to professions," said Dr. Robert Ley, Nazi president of the states' council, who directed the raids. "Guilds like those of the Middle Ages will be formed."

Hitler's next move, with only a day's interval, was to assume control of the Central Association of German Banks and Banking Industry, reorganize the board of directors, appoint a Nazi liaison official and take steps for a general reduction in interest rates.

Proven Facts

That ice is the only refrigerant known at the present time that will refrigerate food properly.

Ice produces the correct cold temperature in a properly constructed refrigerator without sapping the moisture from the foods or drying them out.

Ice produces a constant air circulation which washes and purifies the air by carrying the odors and gases given off by food to the surface of the ice.

Ice also absorbs the water which absorbs these odors and carries them off through the drain pipe into the sewer.

REMEMBER—for preserving natural foods, experience has demonstrated that ice is dependable, economical, and that it gives better results than any known form of refrigeration.

not handled honestly and decently. On the other hand, if the council uses its best judgment, if only the most responsible applicants are licensed, if the sale of beer in Mason is well handled, then the mayor and aldermen will be entitled to commendation.

(From Charlotte Republican.)

We sat on the rim of an animated discussion the other evening during which time the reputation of a person was being considered with more or less frankness. The discussion, for the writer, recalled a pointed paragraph from the sermon preached at the Dan Hickney funeral service that morning by Father Lockwood of St. Mary's Catholic Church. He was emphasizing the Catholic view that our eternal happiness is predicated upon our individual record here and now and by way of driving home the point he said each of us has a greater respect for a Godly man or woman than the person who breaks God's commandments and thinks, in the vernacular of the street, "that he is getting away with it." The public, in other words, has devious and accurate ways to measure men and in most cases the public thinking is snowed that persons know the pathway of the memory of most people regardless of one's own attitude toward said standards, too little regarded in these days, in our opinion, for our future security as individuals and as members of an organized authority. The talk which is responsible for this comment convinced us that no man can "walk out" on his reputation. In other words, most people can see back of the veneer. Father Lockwood's admonition could be boiled down to this homely, but none the less, positive fact—as yet there is no substitute for plain decency. The price for violation is too high. No use trying to fool your conscience. Reputation is your conscience walking beside you down the street.

THE WAR CRY

 we have tried to save the church by using business methods, by imitating the go-getter and the high-pressure salesman. But the only one unalterable condition of salvation for the church is the maintenance of the light within. If we cannot make the religion of Jesus work inside the church then there is no use offering it for export purposes. If our faith in God does not sustain us as we attempt to do religious work it is of no use to offer it to business men who will have to take it out into the rush and crush of the street.

A calm and serene confidence in God, based on an honest effort to do the known will of God, is worth more than any organizers and much campaign material. The within is our final argument.—Roy L. Smith in The War Cry.

(From Cheboygan Observer.)

Roscommon and Crawford county evidently have taken a position that sounds like "to hell with the tourists and resorters" because we note that Roscommon is now trying to get out of paying its annual contribution toward keeping the East Michigan Tourist Association alive and boosting for our part of the state. Crawford county, that has enjoyed a lot of Conservation department activities and has within its confines a large number of tourist and resort attractions, consisting principally of lakes and streams and wild life cover, now refuses to pay for the keep of prisoners in the county jails who have been convicted of violating conservation laws. In fact, they do not frown upon going out and helping themselves to the game and fish of the woods and the waters of the county, or will they prosecute or incarcerate one who is found guilty of destroying the forests and doing other damage to state controlled property. It cannot be that the better minded people of those communities approve of such outlandish measures or lack of measures. Rob either county of its tourist and resort appeal, and show to the world in this way that you are contributing nothing whatever to make the summer visitors' stay in our part of the state pleasant and agreeable, doing nothing to give him what he likes and what he pays for, and what have they left? There never was a time in the history of our country when the walls of our fault finders carried as much weight and destruction as they do from an element that has heretofore been looked upon as stable. We just can't believe such things to persist and to prevail in those communities.

within the limits set forth by the bill.

To regulate the hours during which retailers may sell beer.
To determine a minimum price at which beer or wine may be sold.
To make such reasonable rules as it sees fit governing the equipment and housing of vendors.
To establish a uniform system of accounting for manufacturers and warehouse men.

To require persons having beer licenses, who sell food, to charge the same price for food as "prevails for food of a like nature sold by persons not licensed under this act."

The commission is to be the sole judge as to the individual, association or corporation to which license is issued, may suspend or revoke licenses, and there is no appeal to the courts.

The commission is to be the sole judge as to what corporations or individuals shall be given manufacturing, warehousing and retail licenses in Wayne county. Outside of Wayne county control of retail licenses rests with local legislative authorities.

Retail sales for consumption off the premises may be made only by persons or corporations specially designated by the commission.

Repeal.

The provisions of the 1917 enforcement act are repealed only insofar as they apply to 3.2 per cent beer or wine. Traffic in whiskey, gin, other hard liquors, or beer or wine having more than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight remains a law violation.

Penalties.

For violation of general provisions: First offense, maximum of $500 and three months; subsequent offense, $1,000 and one year maximum.

Manufactured or sold without a license, $1,000 and two years for first offense; $5,000 and five years for subsequent offense.

Forging, altering, counterfeiting or using fake revenue stamps, $1,000 and two years for first offense; $5,000 and five years for subsequent offense.

Stiffest penalty is for any member of the control commission found to be financially interested in manufacture, sale, warehousing or merchandising of beer or wine. The penalty here is $5,000 and five years for a first offense, $10,000 and 10 years for any subsequent offense.

Bonds.

Manufacturers—$10,000.
Wholesalers—$5,000.
Warehouses—$5,000.

Retailers—To be fixed by commission within $1,000 minimum and $5,000 maximum.

Control commissioners—Bond to be fixed by State Administrative Board.

This don't look like depression, that is if you compare it with the pay our own city officers drag down. Down at Grayling they pay the mayor $5 per meeting, and in Cheboygan he gets the generous sum of $8.33 per month. In Grayling the council members get $3 per meeting, here they only get hell. There the fire chief is paid $5 per call where water or chemicals are squirted, $2 if not. Firemen $2 per call if water or chemicals are used and $1 per call if not used.

MICH. AFFAIRS

BY A. H. GANSSER

Momentous Business Events.

Michigan's legislature has now been working for nearly four months and the most vital tax and business problems are still in the solution process. But down in Washington we now have a political dictator, who really dictates. President Roosevelt has been in office only seven weeks, and already he has started more things for good or ill, than has been started by our national government in the last seven years. Time alone can tell the final value of it all. But this much is certain right now, the new deal is dealing. Once again the instinctive intuition of our people brought about a complete and sudden change, when things were allowed to drift amid world changes and world disaster. In the last twenty years America has tried both old parties, and here we are. The Democrats were given a mandate by our people to make certain desirable changes in our national business policy in 1912. The vote that year clearly indicated that the American people were tired of the stagnant policy of the ultra conservative Republicans. Then came the World war from 1914 to 1919, to upset our forward looking and machine age business adjustments at home. In 1921 our people turned out the Democrats and gave the Republicans another chance to manage our national affairs. But business promptly took over national control, and as long as mortgaging the future, world wide could stave off the inevitable day of reckoning, all was well. But when the stock market gambling and international financing bubbles burst, there was no leadership worth while, either from big business or our national government. So our people voted for a change. Democracy Or Dictatorship.

All of which seems to indicate that both old parties are on trial before the American people today. Every thinking American knows that in our machine age and home affairs, there is little to differentiate the two old parties in this hour. Big business and very selfish interests appear to have had major control in both old parties for the past thirty years. So in a way, both old parties are now on trial. If the momentous innovations so suddenly inaugurated by President Roosevelt turn out well for all our people, the dictatorship will be a blessing and eight years of power are to be expected in the light of American political party history. If they prove to be less helpful to the majority of our people than all America now hopes for, then we may look for a new party and progressive action along definite and new lines. For as ever, no one can fool all our people all the time. And there is something to be demanded and expected from our political parties, besides pleasing our campaign contributors and friends, and dividing the spoils of office. Apparently President Roosevelt has correctly interpreted this American call to new methods and speedy action. The economy league and its contributors secured speedy action on their insistent demand to balance the national budget at the expense of the poor war veterans and the underpaid Federal workers. They won a speedy victory over those who thought that what the country needed most in that hour was more circulating medium and more buying power in the hands of our American farmers and workingmen. Came the immediate and lusty protest from big business and our government at Washington about possible deflation of our ancient old standard. Of all things, that must not be. Then this very week comes President Roosevelt with a dictators gold standard deflation, all his own.

The World Against America.

This action of President Roosevelt must have been especially and very startling to the international bankers in New York, London and Paris. For all their public statements have pleaded for our maintaining the old gold standard and so saving the world. But, the last four years of world wide business depression have caused England and some 43 other countries to go off the gold standard. And during the last few months Americans have learned much about an insidious and effective economic drive by our old World war allies against everything that of this old world economic drive against America that has inspired President Roosevelt to take the initiative in deflating the old gold standard. The representatives of England, France, Italy, Germany, Japan and many other countries will soon meet President Roosevelt in confidential economic conferences at Washington. Verily these are history making hours for America and the world. May President Roosevelt have the wisdom and courage to accomplish

Worse still, by depreciating their own currency they have managed to dump their goods on the American market. Thus they have secured big gold credits in America, which they impound, earmark it for future delivery to Europe and Asia, while right now taking the gold out of the American as well as the world business.
